ABOUT RESIDENCY @ THE CENTER

The Residency @ the Center program hosted by the Acadiana Center for the Arts strives to offer our local artists a platform to develop original work and to engage our audience in a public dialogue on the value of contemporary art making.

Residency @ the Center began in 2012 and has hosted ten local artists in the development of original work in visual, performing and media-driven disciplines.

Applications are now open to artists interested in applying for the 2017/2018 season. The program is structured to offer administrative and technical assistance, gallery and/or performance space during January 2018.

The program seeks artists working in a diverse range of media who want to expand, explore and challenge their current art making practices. The ending of the residency will offer artists an exhibit space and/or a performance space to publicly present work. (January 2018)
